

Only ONE candidate for the 8th House District had the bad judgment
to give to the Obama
Victory Fund.

Now, he wants to become YOUR State Representative.

May 2007 - Attorney Darrell Moore makes his first donation to Obama.

July 2007 - Speaking in Chicago, Obama calls for new gun controls.

March 2010 - Obamacare is pushed through Congress aided by shady strategies such as the “Cornhusker Kickback” and “Louisiana Purchase.”

July 2012 - Despite all of the above, Darrell Moore gives to Obama again! This time he funds the Obama Victory Fund Super PAC. Moore and liberal elites from across the nation donate millions to the seedy super PAC.

Tom Gann is calling on outside groups and super PACs to stay out of the House District 8 race. “Voters don’t like the Obama/Moore super PAC game. It’s my hope that these groups will stay out of District 8 - regardless of which candidate they support.”

Attorney Darrell Moore

Moore can perhaps be excused for donating to Obama’s campaign in 2008. Many were tricked by the false narrative of “Hope and Change.”

However, by funding Obama’s super PAC in 2012, Moore demonstrated extreme bad judgment.

Moore’s support of Obama occurred AFTER Obamacare, calls for gun control and Obama’s attempt to control education by bribing states into implementing standards such as Common Core.

As our State Rep. Moore would be responsible for casting hundreds of votes for us. Why should House District 8 voters believe Moore would suddenly start to show good judgment as he casts these many votes?

Accountant Tom Gann

Gann has always opposed Obama’s policies and federal government overreach.

As a school board member, Gann led the opposition to the federal government’s attempt to implement Outcomes Based Education (OBE).

Gann isn’t playing the shady Darrell Moore/Obama super PAC campaign finance game. He is refusing all gifts and contributions from lobbyists and the PACs that hire lobbyists.

Gann wants to prove it is possible to win an election without their money. He will not owe them anything!

As the only accountant in the 149 member Legislature, Gann will lead the effort to make state government accountable and will continue to apply wise judgment and opposition to federal overreach.
